RECORDS OF THE SPECIAL JOINT CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE
TO INVESTIGATE THE TENNESSEE VALLEY AUTHORITY
1938-39

Compiled by

Sidney Goldmann
INTRODUCTION

Public Resolution No. 83 (75th Cong., ch.61, 3rd sess., S. J. Res. 277), approved April 4, 1938, created a special joint congressional committee "to make a full and complete investigation" of the Tennessee Valley Authority for the purpose of "obtaining information as a basis for legislation." The committee, to be made up of five Senators appointed by the President of the Senate and five Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House, was specifically directed to investigate the nature of the administration of the TVA Act by the Board of Directors and its subordinates; the conduct of the Board members themselves, particularly "any interference or handicaps placed in the way of the prompt, efficient, and economical administration of TVA's functions by internal dissension"; phases of alleged maladministration of TVA such as partiality to large corporations, interference with the Comptroller General's audits of the Authority, dissipation of funds through extravagance, mismanagement, and illegal conduct; and activities of private power companies opposed to TVA and the results of such opposition. The committee was also directed to investigate the possibility of the production of sodium nitrate at a lower price than that at which it was then being bought. Congress appropriated $50,000 to the committee and gave it power of subpoena, the right to administer oaths, and authority "to utilize the services, information, facilities and personnel of any department or agency in the executive branch of the government." The committee was directed to report to Congress not later than January 3, 1939.

The committee was created because of difficulties in TVA management that had culminated in the dismissal of the chairman of the Board of Directors a month previously. In accordance with the Tennessee Valley Authority act of 1933 (Public, No. 17, 73d Cong., H. R. 5081), direction of TVA was vested in a three-man Board of Directors, appointed by the President by and with the consent of the Senate. This board consisted of Arthur B. Morgan, chairman, David J. Lilienthal, and Harcourt A. Morgan. Chairman Morgan had brought charges that dissension existed among the board members and that there had been inefficient and uneconomical administration of the TVA Act. President Roosevelt held a series of hearings on March 11, 18, and 21, 1938, to review these charges and thereafter removed Chairman Morgan.

The committee authorized on April 4, 1938, was appointed on April 5 and consisted of Senators Fred H. Brown, James J. Davis, Vic Donahue, Lynn J. Frazier, and H. H. Schwartz, and Representatives William J. Driver, Thomas A. Jenkins, James M. Mead, Ewing Thomason, and Charles A. Woverton. At the first meeting of the committee, April 27, 1938, Senator Donahue was elected chairman and Representative Mead vice chairman. Representative Graham A. Barden replaced Representative Driver upon the latter's resignation, August 22, 1938, and James M. Mead, who resigned as a member from the House of Representatives upon his appointment to the Senate, replaced Senator Brown, January 3, 1939. The vacancy caused by Mead's resignation was not filled. W. O. Heffernan was appointed Secretary to the committee soon after its creation. Francis Biddle was appointed General Counsel at a meeting of the committee, June 7, 1938, and Thomas A. Panter, Chief Engineer at an executive session, June 15. Richard E. Elwell became Assistant Chief Counsel of the committee, and A. B. Hale served as official reporter.
Meetings of the committee, April 27 to June 14, were held in Washington, D. C. In July and August, a number of meetings were held in Knoxville, Tenn. Thereafter the committee again held its meetings in Washington. At the January 14 meeting it was voted to ask Congress for an additional appropriation of $5,000, and to extend the date for the filing of the final report to April 1, 1939. Both requests were acceded to. At the last meeting of the committee, March 30, 1939, it was decided to print 4,000 copies of the final report (which appeared as S. Doc. 56, 76th Cong., 1st sess.) and 3,000 copies of the hearings. The final report as submitted contained as appendix B the report of the Chief engineer, which had been submitted to the committee and approved on January 14, 1939. The hearings include the testimony of A. E. Morgan, H. A. Morgan, and David E. Lilienthal, taken in the May 1938, as well as that of some 100 witnesses heard by the committee at Washington, Chattanooga, and Knoxville. The committee made extensive use of personnel transferred temporarily by other Federal departments, which, in addition, furnished the committee with studies, information, and reports bearing on the TVA investigation, many of which were used as exhibits or in connection with committee hearings.

The files of the committee are confused and show little evidence of considered arrangement. The records were kept by the secretaries to the Secretary and Auditor, General Counsel, Chief Engineer, and the Assistant General Counsel. Copies of the same document, bulletin, report, or technical study are often found in several files. Some of these records appear in as many as six copies. Staff memoranda and studies are to be found where they were left after being used in preparing for hearings. The same is the case with much of the correspondence. A few of the exhibits are missing, but these are to be found reproduced in the printed hearings. The records were received in Accession 449 and total 80 linear feet.

Most of the files consist of materials dealing with various aspects of the investigation directed to be made under the joint resolution, and with the charges brought by Arthur E. Morgan. Among the subjects treated are: Opposition to TVA by private power companies and associations such as Birmingham Power Co., Commonwealth and Southern Corp. and its subsidiaries, Edison Electric Institute, and Tennessee Electric Power Co.; the conduct of TVA board members; the alleged changes made in TVA Board minutes; the location of TVA's principal office; the so-called Berry marble claims case; the "18-Power Companies Case"; personnel policy and practice; land acquisition policy; power rates; and accounting methods. Many items duplicate material in the General Counsel's and Chief Engineer's files.

These files are followed by several folders of miscellaneous records on the opposition to municipal utilities in the Birmingham area in 1933 and correspondence and data relating to Negro employment by TVA and rural electrification. A series of envelopes, alphabetically arranged by witness' names and containing corrections to testimony, follow.

All this material is unarranged. There are also three bound volumes of press releases issued by TVA in 1933, 1936, and 1937.

A number of the 611 exhibits are missing but appear in the transcript of hearings held by President Roosevelt on the TVA, Mar. 11, 18, and 21, 1938, which led to the removal of Arthur E. printed transcript of the hearings. There are a large number of extra copies of the exhibits; duplicates of various reports prepared for the committee by TVA officials relating to various aspects of TVA; extra copies of TVA reports, bulletins, and other publications antedating the investigation; as well as duplicates of the Auditor's Report Appendix and the Report of the Engineer.

Technical reports and studies prepared by members of the Chief Engineer's staff, by TVA departments and engineers, and by others, occupy the major portion of these files. They cover many aspects of TVA's policy, program and operations, including allocation of project costs; navigation; flood control; power market, costs and rates; actual and potential power consumption; rural electrification; transmission and distribution of power; and other power systems in the TVA area. These technical studies are reflected in the Report of the Chief Engineer (Appendix B of the Committee Report). The files include extra carbon copies of the Chief Engineer's Report (Vols. The report proper appears only on page 23 of Appendix A of the printed Report of the Committee. The following, attached to the original report, do appear in the records: (a) Auditor's Appendix, in 2 vols., and (b) Audit Findings of the General Accounting Office on the Tennessee Valley Authority for the fiscal years 1934-36, in 5 vols.
