10 Successfully contested the election of Horatio Biabee, Jr., and took his seat February 20, 1879.
Mr. Kellogg: the report was adopted November 30, 1877; took his seat the same day. In the succeeding Congress the case was reopened upon petition of Mr. Spofford and a report was made in his favor, but he died August 20, 1880, before action was taken.

In the preceding Congress the Committee on Privileges and Elections twice reported that Pinckney B. S. Pinchback was entitled to the seat upon credentials presented to them; but, after these decisions, was instructed to pass upon credentials of James B. Eustis and held that, inasmuch as Mr. Pinchback had a clear title, there was no vacancy; the Senate refused to adopt the report of the committee and declared Mr. Pinchback “not entitled to the seat” by a vote of 32 to 29. March 9, 1877 (in the special session of the Senate), the credentials of Mr. Eustis were taken from the files and again referred the committee reported December 1, 1877, holding that the Senate’s action in the case of Mr. Pinchback was a final adjudication, and a resolution declaring Mr. Eustis entitled to his seat, his term of service to date from January 12, 1876; this report and resolution were adopted December 10, 1877, and Mr. Eustis appeared, qualified, and took his seat the same day.

Served until February 20, 1878; succeeded by Joseph H. Acklen who contested his election.

Served until February 20, 1878; succeeded by George L. Smith.

Served until February 20, 1878; succeeded by Benjamin H. Hill, who contested his election.

Served until February 20, 1878; succeeded by John B. Gordon.

Served until February 20, 1878; succeeded by Joseph H. Acklen.

Served until February 20, 1878; succeeded by Benjamin H. Hill, who contested his election.
